Description of Resident Input Meeting:

public meeting each application is read out in turn. The application representative, if present, can provide additional information (not repeating what is already provided in the application). Public and committee members can ask questions for clarification and/or comment. Each committee member then reads out their recommended allocation which may have changed through the course of the in person review. All recommended grant allocations are tabulated and averaged in the spreadsheet. Once all of the applications have been reviewed the grand total is reviewed and if it exceeds the total funding available the committee must make decisions to pro-rate or otherwise adjust allocation amounts until the total is within the allocated budget. The summary sheet is checked again the next day (for errors) and sent out to all committee members to confirm their agreement with the allocations. The sheet is then sent in to staff.
