EVACUATION ALERT RESCIND

Date: May 16, 2023

Time: 16:00

The Regional District of Central Kootenay has been advised that the risk of snowmelt triggered debris flow for Talbott Creek and the Unnamed Creek East of Talbott Creek is now lower for this spring season due to the reduction of the snow pack. As such, the potential for imminent danger to the life and property of persons from a debris flow from Little Slokan South Road, Electoral Area 'H', Regional District of Central Kootenay, has diminished at this time.

Based on recommendations by a Qualified Professional, the Evacuation Alert has, therefore, been RESCINDED for all properties.

In the event that conditions change, Evacuation Alerts or Orders may be re-issued and the evacuation process will re-commence.
