Regional Energy Efficiency Program
HOME RENOVATION

ABOUT

The Regional Energy Efficiency Program is a Regional District Central Kootenay (RDCK) initiative to promote energy efficiency in residential buildings. This is available to all home dwellers within the RDCK, whether you rent or own, including low income.

This energy efficiency program makes it easier for you to use less energy by completing energy upgrades or installing energy efficiency products in your home.

Upgrades can include improving insulation, reducing air leakage, and installing more efficient space and water heating systems. Having an EnerGuide Home Energy Evaluation will help you to learn which upgrades will save you the most money, access current rebates and low-interest financing.

PROCESS

1. Complete and submit registration form
2. You will be contacted and provided with additional information depending on which program you are participating in.
